

I hope it helps - even a very little - to know that others - though seemingly silently - hold you close in their hearts, their thoughts and their prayers.

Love,

Dear Susan and Wendel
I read the article in the Post about you and had to send you a little note.

I am so sorry for your very great loss - the loss of your beautiful daughter. It is a loss I cannot comprehend as it is so very great.

Yet you seem to be walking through it with such love and generousness toward others. You both must have very big hearts.

I want you to know that I keep you always in my prayers.
I don't think a day goes by that I don't think of you - especially when I look out my window or drive by your home.
